New England's Monthly Numismatic Catalog

NERCA's Metro Sale Exceeds $5.4 Million

Our heartfelt thanks to all the consignors and bidders who made New England Rare Coin Auctions' 1980 Metropolitan New York Sale such an outstanding success. Prices realized totaled $5,404,794 — a sum surpassing even the record-breaking $4.1 million realized by New England at last summer's A.N.A. Auction. The largest collection offered at Metro was New England Rare Coin Fund I, a rare coin portfolio assembled by New England's founder James Halperin on behalf of a group of private investors. The 196 coins in that portfolio were acquired in 1976-1978 at a cost of $348,380. The price realized for those coins by New England Rare Coin Auctions: $2,158,450 — a 620% increase. Another major offering of the sale, the Jerome Bilbrey Collection of Seated Half Dimes, had been appraised just months before the auction at $64,000. It was sold by New England Rare Coin Auctions for $132,000. Inside, you'll find a full report on the 1980 Metro Sale, including photo highlights. Collectors interested in selling coins at our next auction are invited to contact Consignment Administrator Bruce Laing at our toll-free number.

New England World Selections, the official catalog of our Ancient & World Coin Division, premiered earlier this month. This bi-monthly publication has already drawn tremendous response from its readers, and if you've yet to order your free trial subscription, give New England a call today.

Next month, Inventory Selections readers can expect a very special treat. Our June catalog will be the first of our quarterly Inventory Selections Specials featuring our entire U.S. rare coin and currency inventory, selected world coin offerings, and an expanded section of features and articles. In addition to our regular Market Report and Numismatic Forum, you'll be seeing special articles on the upcoming Boston Jubilee Auction, the origins of American coinage, the history of the American Numismatic Association, and much more.

A special series profiling

New England Rare Coin Galleries' numismatic experts.

Edward B. Kalp

Standing over an oak display case in the Boston headquarters of New England Rare Coin Galleries, Professional Numismatist Ed Kalp talks about the various medals, admission tickets and coins inside. They are part of his vast personal collection of Columbiana — commemoratives made in honor of the 1892 Columbian Exposition in Chicago. "As a kid, I was a history buff. My hero was Teddy Roosevelt, a man who had a very strong influence on coinage of this century." In fact, it was Ed's interest in history and his fascination with a bag of junk coins his father had at home that first sparked his interest in coin collecting.

Ed began visiting a Boston coin shop on Saturdays and developed a friendship with the owner. "I didn't actually buy any coins until I was 17 and got my first job. I spent half of each week's paycheck acquiring Small Cents because I thought top-quality pieces, especially proofs, were undervalued. I also knew how difficult it is to preserve copper and figured high-quality specimens would be worth a lot of money in coming years."

As Ed built his collection, he developed basic buying, grading and selling skills. In 1974, he opened his own store specializing in coin jewelry and, a year later, sold it to attend Boston University. After graduating with a B.S./B.A. in Accounting and Marketing, Ed gained his first professional numismatic experience with stamp dealer H.E. Harris. Serving as a buyer for Bowers & Ruddy (H.E. Harris's sister company), Ed acquired a knowledge of top-quality coins — and he met Jim Halperin, New England Rare Coin Galleries' founder. Jim was impressed with Ed's knowledge of collectibles and Ed was impressed with New England. "New England had and still has the best inventory in the world."

As a New England Professional Numismatist, Ed primarily serves Boston-area clients. He tries to educate and provide them with a working knowledge of rare coins.

In addition to his personal coin collection, Ed enjoys traveling, playing bridge — he is a tournament bridge player — and, of course, gathering elusive Columbiana. "Even though the rare coin market is exploding, the average person can still get in if he has the expertise. There are a lot of good buys for the investor and historically significant coins for the collector."

“At the Metro Sale, Morgan Dollars realized 2, 13, even 15 times cost.”

Christopher Tracey
Vice-President, Retail Sales

“Signs of a forthcoming silver dollar rebirth continue to appear everywhere. In March, Garrett Sale silver dollars brought remarkable prices. In April, Coin Dealer Newsletter reported many MS-60's and 65's on the increase. And in mid-April, Morgan Dollars realized stunning prices at the 1980 Metropolitan New York Sale. One MS-63 1893-CC sold for double its 1976 cost; an MS-63 1894-O sold for 13 times its '76 cost; and an MS-63 1889-O brought 15 times its 1976 cost.*

“This kind of enthusiasm is not new to the world of silver dollar collecting.

Silver dollars have traditionally been the backbone of the numismatic marketplace — especially silver dollars of high quality and interesting pedigree.

“This is why New England is so pleased to offer Redfield Morgans in Inventory Selections. These pieces are the best of the Redfield Collection — and, as part of the world's largest and most famous private silver dollar hoard, their pedigree is matchless. This double-edged advantage — quality and pedigree — makes Redfield Dollars outstanding numismatic values.”

Come to a major rare coin auction ...
in the birthplace of American coinage.

The Boston Jubilee Auction!

The Boston Jubilee Auction

In 1652, the first coins struck in America were produced in Boston. Mint Master John Hull minted silver shillings, sixpence and threepence — the famous New England, Willow, Pine, and Oak Tree coinage — in a small wooden shed, not far from the present offices of New England Rare Coin Auctions.

The old Boston mint closed in 1682, after only 30 years of operation. But you can still see numismatic history being made in Boston ... when you attend the Boston Jubilee Auction on July 25 and 26. Join thousands of other collectors in helping New England Rare Coin Auctions celebrate Boston's Jubilee 350 anniversary, with a major auction of the finest in rare U.S. coins.

... featuring the Niemeyer Collection of Indian Gold.

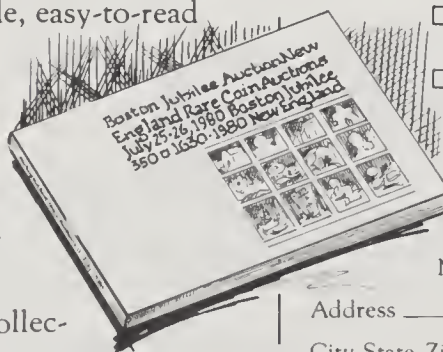

The featured consignment in the Boston Jubilee Auction will be the Niemeyer Collection of $5 and $10 Indian Gold. Dr. G. Charles Niemeyer of Washington, D.C., distinguished author, actor, and theatrical historian, assembled this exemplary collection, perhaps the finest and most complete in existence of the two series.

Market Report

by Tim LaPointe

At the shows

Numerous coin conventions and auctions dotted April's numismatic calendar, including the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Association Convention (April 11-13), the Central States Numismatic Convention (April 18-20), and auctions by New England Rare Coin Auctions, Kagin's, Steve Ivy and Superior. Bourse trading was not as heavy as in March, with dealers and investors seeming to care more about the quality of their purchases than the quantity. Auction sales, however, were dramatic — especially at New England's Metropolitan New York Sale which realized over $5 million and made front-page headlines in major numismatic publications.

Gold

Gold bullion is currently at $515 per ounce, up $40 from our last report, and seems to be stabilizing for the time being in the high $400's to low $500's. As expected, bullion coins such as Krugerrands, Maple Leafs and Mexican Pesos rose last month in response. However, the stars of April's gold market were the California Gold Pieces in New England's Metropolitan New York Sale. Virtually all of these specimens, ranging from an 1854 25¢ Octagonal Liberty Head to an 1870-G Round Liberty Head, realized record prices. Some market analysts view the success of this sale as an early market indicator of a renewed interest in this sometimes overlooked area of numismatics.

Other outstanding prices realized for gold at the Metro Sale: $50,000 for a Proof-67 1885 $3 Gold Piece; $62,500 for a Matte Proof-65 1914 Half Eagle; and $72,500 for the extremely rare 1845 Proof Half Eagle.

Silver

The sharp decline experienced by silver bullion in March seems to have slowed in April. Silver is currently at $13.35 per ounce, an 8% drop from our last report. However, collectible silver coinage is still providing solid returns. At the Metro Sale, many high-grade silver specimens joined their gold counterparts in exceeding current bid levels. A 1901-S Barber Dime in MS-69, bid at $8,000, sold for $15,000; an original Mercury Dime roll, bid in Choice BU with Full Split Bands at $7,750, sold for $13,000; and an 1862 Seated Quarter in MS-65, bid at $5,500, sold for $15,500.

Particularly high interest was displayed this month in early silver type coins (1794-1807) which were actively sought by dealers in almost all grades. Dealers are also buying up rare and Gem common-date silver dollars for premium prices. One example: a Semi-Prooflike 1889-CC reportedly traded hands between dealers at the Metro Sale for almost $30,000.

Nickel, Copper

Nickel coinage is still on the upswing with almost all Mint State Buffalo Nickels showing signs of increasing. Proof Buffaloes seem to be performing particularly well. One 1936 Proof, currently bid at $3,500, sold at auction last month for $7,000; while a 1937 traded hands for between $4,000 and $5,000. However, many dealers feel that type Buffaloes may outpace Proofs in the not-too-distant future.

In the Copper market, dealers are still eagerly searching for Early Half Cents and Cents in almost any condition. Chain, Wreath and Liberty Capped Cents, along with Flowing Hair Half Cents, are considered particularly desirable and are showing the strongest gains in all conditions from Good to Gem BU. Copper Nickels and Indian Cents are still being bought despite recent price advances. This is probably because many experts feel that Gem Indian Cents are still underpriced and will continue to bring buyers for some time to come.

Lincoln Cents, another relatively quiet area until a few months ago, are also showing increases in almost all dates up to the mid-1950's. Key date Lincoln Cents in Gem condition are becoming particularly hard to find.

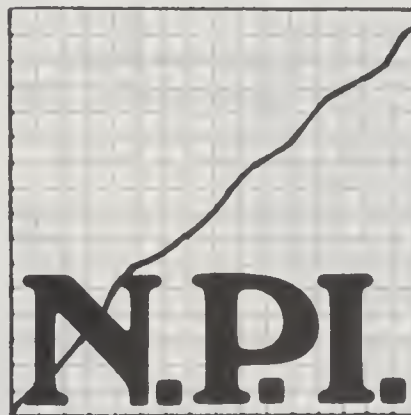

Currency

April was a bonanza month for U.S. currency. Beginning with the Central States Convention, U.S. currency traded at increasingly higher levels at each show. Most dealers were actively seeking Gem Notes of all kinds, 1914 Blue Seal Federal Reserve Notes, and U.S. Fractional Currency, which is viewed by many dealers as the bargain of U.S. Currency. (Most Fractional Notes are now trading at only a modest gain over the 1979 price levels.)

One of the major reasons for this outstanding activity in April seems to have been the introduction of the "Green Sheet", the counterpart of Coin Dealer Newsletter (or the "Gray Sheet"). The Green Sheet has helped many U.S. coin dealers feel more confident in purchasing U.S. currency for clients. Many dealers are even beginning to establish U.S. currency portfolios for their clients and themselves.

World Coins

The market for top-quality world coins has never been stronger, as evidenced by the increasing number of buy ads appearing in various trade publications. A further sign of market strength is that more dealers in stamps and U.S. coins are now buying high-quality world coins with an eye to the future. Dealers realize that mintage figures for many world coins reveal that hundreds of them are greatly underpriced on today's market — particularly when compared to U.S. coins of similar mintages. Among the most sought-after coins: the 19th Century German States coinage in Mint State and Proof; Swiss Cantonal coinage in top grade, which has virtually disappeared from the market; and Shooting Talers in top quality, which have also vanished. It has been reported that many of the Shooting Talers are now in Japan, as Japanese tourists and businessmen have actively bought up the available supply on their visits to Switzerland.

May, 1980

The figures in this month's Numismatic Price Index indicate weighted average price trends from March 31, 1980 through April 30, 1980.

Copper	↑ 2.9%
Nickel	↑ 12.9%
Silver	↑ 10.3%
Gold	↑ 26.0%
Coins under $500	↑ 5.5%
Coins $500-$2,000	↑ 13.7%
Coins over $2,000	↑ 13.1%
Overall Market Activity	↑ 13.0%

The figures above were derived by tracing the price movements of a balanced, representative sample of U.S. rare coins — including 144 major type and better date coins — in MS-65 or Proof-65 condition for the period of one month. The Numismatic Price Index is compiled by and 1980 by Jay C. Miller.

The 1980 Metropolitan New York Numismatic Association Auction Realizes $5,404,794 for New England Consignors

On April 10-12, New England Rare Coin Auctions, a division of New England Rare Coin Galleries, conducted the annual auction of the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Association. Two Major rare coin collections were liquidated at that sale: New England Rare Coin Fund I (a spectacular portfolio of coins personally acquired by NERCG founder James Halperin on behalf of a private investor group) and the Jerome Bilbrey Collection of Seated Half Dimes (an elegant, complete set of United States Seated Half Dimes in outstanding condition). Featured here are just a few highlights from this sale, and two graphs representing the auction performance of the sale's two major collections.

I received the 1843-D Eagle I ordered from your December catalog, and I am very pleased with it. The rich reddish coloration of the coin is attractive and unusual. Is there anything special about the gold that was used at the Dahlonega Mint that would account for this? — R.W., San Leandro, CA

You are right to suppose that "local gold" used in coinage can cause considerable variation in the appearance of coins — and nearly all the gold used at the U.S. mint in Dahlonega was mined from the state of Georgia. But this Georgian gold, which was mined from alluvial deposits and quartz veins throughout the northern half of the state, was carefully purified before coining. Therefore, it is unlikely that the reddish coloration of your coin is a result of the gold itself. Instead, the coloration is probably the result of the natural oxidation of your coin's copper content. A standard .900/.100 copper alloy was used in almost all U.S. gold coins.

Other types of gold alloys may result in differing tones of gold coinage. As little as 5% silver in gold causes a distinct whitening of the alloy. Ancient Greek coins made from naturally occurring electrum (a silver/gold alloy) have been found to contain from 20% to 34% silver, with correspondingly large variations in color. In U.S. coinage, the extremely rare Mormon coins of Utah, despite their "G.S.L.C.P.G." (Great Salt Lake City Pure Gold) legend, were struck from a natural gold/silver alloy and may contain up to 15% silver.

I recently purchased a coin minted in Jerusalem during the Bar Kochba revolt (Meshorer 191). Looking carefully at it today, I noticed a faint inscription in the bronze seeming underneath the Hebrew lettering. Can you suggest an explanation for this? — R.C., Old Lyme, CT

The coinage of the Jewish general Simon Bar Kochba was struck almost entirely on existing Roman and Syrian coins, and traces of the original design are occasionally found on bronzes, although this is much more frequent on silver coins. Incidentally, you are mistaken about the coin being minted in Jerusalem. Despite the obverse inscription which says simply "Jerusalem," the Jews had been expelled from the holy city. In fact, it was precisely to regain Jerusalem from the Romans that the messianic Bar Kochba led his revolt, in 132-135 C.E. All of this exile coinage proclaimed the hoped-for Jewish liberation of the city, as if it had already occurred.

I often see overdates listed in Inventory Selections, but I hardly ever see over mintmarks. I was wondering if there was a specific reason for this. — R.W., Tucson, AZ

While there are plenty of overdates (one date printed over another), no one had heard of over mintmarks until 1961, when the 1938 D/S Buffalo Nickel was discovered by two Jamestown, New York dealers. The coin, with the letter D punched over the original letter S, was considered one of the major finds in modern numismatics, but its origin can only be surmised.

One theory is that the unusual minting situation in 1938 was responsible for the error. Previously, Buffalo Nickels had been struck in Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver. But in 1938, the last year Buffalo Nickels were coined, they were scheduled to be minted only in Denver. This decision was made after dies with S mintmarks had already been produced. As an economy move, these S mintmarked dies were overpunched with D mintmarks and then sent to Denver where all 1938 Buffalo Nickels were coined.

When this variety was discovered in 1961, it was considered a great rarity because only a few specimens were known. Following an announcement in Coin World, hundreds of additional specimens came to light. Today, several thousand 1938 D/S Nickels are known, and the coin is no longer considered such a rarity. Other over mintmarked coins, such as the 1954 over D and the 1955 D over S Jefferson Nickel, have also been discovered.

Last month you offered several 17th century "scudos" from Genoa, and I have noticed Spanish and Portuguese coins called "escudos". Do you know the origin of the term? — E.B., Bloomington, IN Both terms come from the Latin word scutum, meaning shield, so named because of the royal or national shield frequently depicted on the coin. (Coins frequently become known by the name of one of their devices — crowns and eagles are the most familiar examples.)

The appearance of shields on coins occasionally draws collectors into the study of another fascinating and intricate hobby: heraldry, the study of coats of arms and the genealogy of noble families. In England, arms are assigned by the College of Heralds, presided over by the Garter king-of-arms.

In the ever-changing network of family and military alliances that make up European history, a knowledge of heraldry is invaluable to an understanding of coin symbolism. A good example is a German coin, bearing on the obverse the royal arms of England, and on the reverse a fierce and most un-English-looking "wildman," casually uprooting a sapling. The explanation is this: George Wilhelm, Duke of Brunswick-Luneberg, inherited the throne of England, becoming King George I. He added the British arms to his native coinage, but on the reverse retained a motif from his own arms. The wildman often appears elsewhere. A pair of wildmen supports a coat of arms, just as the lion and unicorn support the British arms, on this 1747 Specie-Daler of Denmark.

Our Complete Numismatic Services

1. Guarantees

☐ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from us are graded correctly and will meet our high standards when you wish to sell them. Further, we guarantee to purchase these coins at the same grade at which they were sold, or sell them for you at auction cataloged at the same grade at which you purchased them.

Our grading system is patterned after that of the American Numismatic Association. Developed in 1978, the A.N.A. System is rapidly being adopted by virtually the entire professional numismatic community. Its designations are:

Poor.....	1
Fair.....	2
About Good.....	3
Good.....	4,5
Very Good.....	8,10
Fine.....	12,15
Very Fine.....	20,25,30,35
Extremely Fine.....	40,45
About Uncirculated.....	50,55,58
Mint State.....	60,63,64,65,66,67,69,70
Proof.....	60,63,65,67,69,70

Slash grades indicate obverse/reverse designations. For example, a grade of 65/63 describes a coin with an obverse of Mint State 65 and a reverse of Mint State 63.

☐ Authenticity

We further guarantee that all coins sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries are authentic. To protect our customers, and as proof of our certainty that no altered or counterfeit coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price plus 15% compound annual interest, on any non-authentic coin acquired from us.

☐ Documentation

These guarantees are issued in writing with all coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries. Each written guarantee is personally endorsed by two professional numismatists.

☐ Satisfaction

If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with your purchases, you may return them within 45 days of the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.
